Subject: Haskell Lake Lodge, new post ecoli development and Update - V County can declare a human health hazard if arrangements are made for inhabitants

Good Afternoon,

Per the current Haskell Lake Lodge Hotel Manager, Land Management was notified of a recent positive ecoli water test. This was confirmed by Gina Egan, Vilas County Health Department, in a phone conversation this afternoon with K.Hanson and Z. Mayo. During this call, the Tribal Land Management Director discussed the safety of residents at the hotel and what possibly could be done.

At 2:30 this afternoon, Gina left a message on K. Hanson phone. Gina is willing to declare the hotel a human health hazard, but will need arrangements for the people currently occupying the hotel, particularly any Tribal Members.

Calls to the hotel were not returned. I do not know how many residents or Tribal Members would need housing arrangements for Vilas County to make the human health hazard declaration.
